Dispute Resolution Service

BCIPA One-day Intensive Training Course

Introduction

The RICS Dispute Resolution Service is an Authorised Nominating Authority (ANA) under the Building and Construction Industry Payments Act 2004.

The RICS Dispute Resolution Service is presenting a series of intensive training courses aimed at training industry practitioners in the operation of the Building and Construction Industry Payments Act 2004. The training course is designed to provide a detailed and practical understanding of the Act.

The RICS is the leading global provider of dispute resolution services whose members number 130,000 worldwide. The RICS DRS in Queensland is backed by the experience and expertise of the RICS, the world's largest not for profit property organisation.

BCIPA

The Building and Construction Industry Payments Act, 2004

The Act was introduced to provide a swift and efficient resolution to payment disputes in the building and construction industry.

The Act is designed to speed up the process of resolving security of payment between parties within the industry.

The Act provides a quick adjudication process facilitated by a qualified adjudicator.

One-day Intensive Training Course & Adjudicator training

Attendees to these courses who wish to progress to the Adjudicator training course, the required step to securing a certificate in adjudication, will receive a 20% discount off the cost of the Adjudicator training course.

Who Should Attend?

This training course is designed for building and construction industry practitioners representing suppliers, subcontractors, contractors, consultants, private and government organisations, property developers, owners and operators.

This course is equally applicable to the NSW Security of Payments Act. The legislation is applicable to the following industries: Building work, civil engineering, demolition, electrical, hire of plant and material, landscaping, maintenance, mechanical, architectural design, surveying, supply of building materials, plus many more.

This course is also QLS accredited, and is worth approximately 7 CPD hours (ref no:CPDP0659).
